Princess Mikki Minnear

Queen Judy Sailer

Princess Janice Pope

Judy Sailer

Queen Judy Sailer, sophomore education major, hails from Turon, Kansas (pop. 700).

Miss Sailer is the dark-haired, dark-eyed young lady known to most CBC'ers as the girl in the bookstore. She is also vice president of the Associated Students.

She is currently a resident of Richland, having moved to the Tri-City area two years ago. After graduation from high school in Kansas, Miss Sailer came to the area to visit a sister and liked it so well she remained.

As a freshman at CBC she served as publicity chairman for the Graduation Ball and worked in the bookstore.

In her spare time Miss Sailer also works at Hurt's Apparel in Richland and maintains a hobby of designing her own clothes, which her mother makes.

She has not decided where she will continue her education but hopes to transfer to Whitworth College in Spokane.

Miss Judy Sailer, sophomore, was crowned 1960 Homecoming Queen at the Homecoming Assembly this morning and will be presented and crowned again at half-time during tomorrow's game with the Lower Columbia Red Devils.

Miss Sailer and her court, consisting of sophomore princesses Mikki Minnear and Janice Pope, and freshmen princesses Carol Berglund and Pam Gardner, will reign over the Fourth Annual Homecoming Festivities through Saturday when the program will climax with the "Harbor Lights" dance. A semi-formal affair, the dance will be held in the student lounge from 9 to 12 p.m. Admission will be $1.50 per couple.

Queen candidates are chosen by the freshmen and sophomore classes, with the two freshman princesses, the two sophomore princesses, and the queen being selected by a vote of the football team members.

Other Homecoming activities include a pep rally and bonfire Friday evening at 7 p.m., and a coffee hour and reception for students, alumni, faculty, parents, and friends before and after the game in the multi-purpose room of Emerson Grade School, immediately adjacent to the stadium.

Escorts for this year's royalty include Glen Crandall, Dave Clutinger, Bob Lawrence, Jon Froberg, and Larry Fogg for the morning assembly. Jerry Votendahl, Don Lash, Tom Shine, Larry Gunn, and Larry Hayes will escort the court during half-time activities.

General chairman for Homecoming 1960 is Don Eisenbarth. The MC is Jerry Streeter. Other committee chairmen include Jerry Streeter and Joanne Espinola, Queen and Court; George Bakan, half-time activities; Tom Shine, publicity; Glen Crandall and Norm Sandberg, pep rally; Associated Women, flowers and mums and coffee hour; Vonda Stevens and Mackey Seaman, assemblies; Sandra Hesselman, alumni welcoming; Marilyn Stork and Jerry Votendahl, dance, and Talons, campus decorations.

Collegiate Receives Criticism

The Collegiate, and particularly Dennis Akers, author of "C.B. Collegiate Goes To College," has recently run into some administrative resistance concerning Mr. Akers' article about fraternities and sororities which was printed last week under the title "It's Not Greek to A Greek."

Where did we get permission to print the article, we were asked. Numerous disadvantages of the Greek system of sororities and fraternities were pointed out and we were told that "it just won't work in a junior college." We should try to find more constructive subjects to write about.

In his defense the besieged Mr. Akers replied that he thought this system could do much toward promoting college spirit at CBC and said that he was just trying to see what opinions students held on the subject.

The editor of the Collegiate is not concerned with the pros and cons of sororities and fraternities nor do we hold any particular positive or negative views on the subject. But since when should a college newspaper be subject to permission to print something that is of interest and not libelous? If, as college students, we are to gain any maturity we must have freedom of expression.

This newspaper should speak for the students just as the dailies should speak for the people.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

The Wa-Hi cabinet has chosen the weekend of November 11-12 as homecoming. The game is with Gonzaga on the afternoon of the 12th and the dance follows that evening.

Will you please announce this in your paper for the Walla Walla High graduates.

Sincerely yours,
Jeannie McManus

Dear Sir:

Can Mr. Andrews, Republican candidate for governor, be trusted?

His political party platform promises opposition to any form of the state income tax, and to any increase in the present rate of taxation.

Yet Mr. Andrews on December 9, 1958 advocated BOTH a flat income tax of 2% on "every dollar from the first to the last," and an increase in the sales tax from 3 1/4% to 4%.

Now, Mr. Andrews claims to have changed his mind. But, he has changed his mind before. Can he be relied upon to keep his word, and to live up to his promises?

Here is what he says:

"I have recommended that the Legislature could partially solve the 'problem' by forgetting the multitude of commitments made during the heat of the campaign, and moving in the direction of cutting the apttern to fit the cloth."

This statement appears to indicate that there is no connection between Mr. Andrew's billboard promises and his actual intentions.

Sincerely,
Merton Cochran

Homecoming Royalty Chosen

Mikki Minnear

Miss Mikki Minnear, sophomore co-ed from Pasco, was chosen as one of the five finalists in the Homecoming Queen election last week. This is her second year as princess.

Miss Minnear was escorted to the platform by Larry Fogg, who escorted her last year when she was a princess.

Miss Minnear told a Collegiate reporter, "There were nine co-eds nominated from the sophomore class and six from the freshman class. I really wasn't expecting to be a finalist."

The co-eds were nominated by their respective classes and elected by the football team.

Miss Minnear has not determined a definite college major. Active in college activities, she is a member of the Student Council, Talons, and a song leader.

Janice Pope

"I looked like a Greenwich Village princess," said the 5'3" CBC co-ed; owner and wearer of black leotards and a gold stadium length lounge dress, when introduced as Homecoming princess last week.

A laughing smile, flashing dark brown eyes, and the latest fashion is typical of Janice Pope, sophomore princess.

She graduated from Pasco High School in 1959, where her spirit had been exercised as cheerleader for three of her four years and song leader for the remaining one.

She was Pasco's Homecoming princess her junior year and SAC representative for the Pep Club. She has no college major as yet, but is interested in psychology and languages. She hopes to go to Washington State University and has taken secretarial courses for financial purposes.

She was introduced by football player, Dave Clutinger. She loves to eat pomegranates and thinks the social atmosphere is inadequate at CBC. "I don't know everybody," she says.

Carol Berglund

Carol Berglund, blond Homecoming princess, is a freshman, a CBC cheerleader, and a member of Talons.

She comes from Kennewick High, where in her junior year she was also a cheerleader.

Born in Spokane, she lived in Panama two years and in Richland ten years before she moved to Kennewick.

She follows her sister, Donna, who attended CBC last year, and has one younger brother. She is studying sociology and journalism, says she "likes it here, so far" and is "real excited" at becoming a Homecoming princess.

Pam Gardner

"I'm real happy," said Miss Pam Gardner, blond co-ed from Kennewick, after her selection as a freshman Homecoming princess.

Miss Gardner has not yet decided on a definite college major. Her schedule includes: speech, psychology, nutrition, English, and golf. Among her activities on campus are cheerleading, Talons, and AWS.

At Kennewick High School Miss Gardner served as ASB secretary and as the Junior Prom Queen.

SNEA Has Meeting

SNEA, the Student National Education Association, began its year's activities recently with an evening meeting attended by presidents of various professional organizations.

During the past week CBC lounge has been a of expounded opinion coming the placing of a mural the wall of the library.

A reporter has gleaned this great source of philosophy that the of the students are in favor a mural.

Between coffee, classes studying the reporter gave the following comments:

"The mural should old-fashioned type paint with a professional touch."

"The mural should be scholastic sequence. It be extensively planned in a professional way, a contemporary vein school organization, made of a combined effort dents and faculty sponsor the mural."

"The painting is a good. It should not be abstract gaudy because it tract people too much."

"The picture should about reading but abstract."

"It should be some from Paris, possibly the Tower. It should not be modern."

"It should be some symbolic of the Tri-City semi-elevated. It should curved picture like C showing areas students from."

"It should be done sophomores so that the be remembered."

It should be some classical, really involving slightly abstract."

Hawks Await Red Devils, Saturday Homecoming Tilt

Tomorrow afternoon Columbia Basin will play host to Lower Columbia in the Hawks Fourth Annual Homecoming game at the Edgar Brown Memorial Stadium. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

The Hawks, who are making a bid to take their first Washington State Junior College football championship, will run into a LCJC squad that is having perhaps the worst football season in their history. The Red Devils are losers in five league outings, and have been tromped in their last two tilts by Grays Harbor, 33-0, and by league leading Everett, 60-0. Earlier in the year Wenatchee rolled over the Longview team 40-0.

The Red Devils, however, boast a fine array of fleet halfbacks, headed by Rod McClellon and Gary Moe.

Jim Burgoyne, who saw considerable action last year, directs the team at quarterback.

The Hawk's defensive "Gang Busters," may be without the services of Pasco lineman Larry Fogg. Fogg, who has missed the past two ball games, broke a finger in the Wenatchee game, probably will not see action until next week against Everett. George Ling, another Pasco lineman, will probably see only limited action as a result of a knee injury suffered in practice two weeks ago. Clair Foley, outstanding guard and line-backer from Pasco, suffered a slight brain concussion last week, but should be ready for tomorrow's tilt.

The rest of the lineup will probably remain the same.

CBC Resumes Winning Ways

Columbia Basin's Hawks returned to their winning ways last Saturday afternoon when they dumped the Olympic Rangers 12-6 in a conference tilt at Bremerton.

The Hawks displayed their finest offensive show this year in the first half when they ground out 77 yards on the ground and added 122 yards in the air for a total of 199 yards. The "Gang Busters" again showed their defensive skills as the Rangers failed to penetrate the Hawks 20 until their final scoring splurge late in the game.

Although the score indicated a fairly close game, CBC dominated the play throughout. The Hawks threatened to score twice in the second period before Roger Snow, crashed into the end zone with 2:49 left in the half.

The first tally was set up when Olympic was forced to punt from inside their 10. Dave Clutinger returned the boot 32 yards to the Olympic's five yard line to set up Snow's gallop. Loren Solum's try for extra point was wide and CBC led 6-0.

In the third period the Hawks were forced to punt from the Rangers 43. Paul Sheley's boot was downed on the Olympic six and on the Ranger's first play from scrimmage, Harold Hawley, a 243 pound frosh from Spokane, fell on a forced fumble in the end zone with 11:21 gone in the second half to give the Hawks their second touchdown. Solum's kick was low and CBC was ahead 12-0.

Olympic finally put a drive together late in the game when they drove 74 yards in eight plays to score with 10 seconds left in the game.

Government Money Available To Students Who Need Help

In the winter of 1958, government funds were made available to CBC students who find it necessary to borrow money to continue their education.

While the maximum loan is $1,000 per year, students at a Junior College may borrow up to $700 dollars per year, based on college costs here at CBC. Since its start, about 33 students have taken advantage of this program at CBC.

To be eligible for this government loan, a student must meet four major requirements:

1. He must be enrolled full time in an accredited college or university.

2. Preference is given to students majoring in foreign languages, science, math, engineering, guidance and counseling, and education.

3. The student must be of superior quality. (GPA or a "B" or better)

4. Finally, a complete financial report of student's own family resource must be made.

A person doesn't have to start paying on his loan until one year after he earns his degree and then with an interest of only 3%. Ten years are allowed to pay back the loan. Students going into the field of education, through a "forgiveness clause," will be required to pay only 50% of their loan.

In case of death to the loanee, the entire debt is cancelled; if there is a disability, the payments are delayed. Delayed payments for service in the armed forces and for a return to college to work on advanced degrees are allowed.

CBC students wishing to take advantage of this loan program are at an advantage over students from Washington's other junior colleges because CBC is the only junior college in the state at present that is able to loan government money through the National Student Defense Loan Program.

If you are interested in securing a government loan or for further information, see Mrs. Stappler.

Bookstore Problems Aired By Energetic Staff Member

By JUDY SAILOR

Have you noticed the little room at the northwest corner of the Administration Building?

That room where desks are always cluttered and people are engaged in noisy conversation is the campus bookstore. This is that place where students majoring in Distributive Education run around in confusion trying to contend with the problems of business. The ultimate goal of a D. E. student is to endeavor to learn how to be sweet and nice and willing to serve those people who are perverse, obstinate and actually indifferent! Also, this is that place where customers strive to learn what makes the clerks behave in such utter bewilderment.

The mass confusion you witness when entering the bookstore is not what it appears to be—they really do accomplish things.

Apparently, some feel the bookstore is unreasonable in pricing. Publishing companies have increased their prices on books tremendously. To reduce these prices is completely beyond the authority of the bookstore. Concerning book returns and refunds, they realize the percentage is high. However, this is a necessity since they make just enough from a new book to pay the cost of handling. It is easy to see, then, that this charge must be made on returned used books so that all the bills can be paid.

The bookstore would like you to be served in such a way that you will be satisfied in your purchases.

The machine buzzing at the end of the hall was made possible through the bookstore. Anyone wishing to use it for advertising or promoting may do so. The store hopes you will take full advantage of the machine and submit entries.

Pasco Lecture Delivered By Lady Journalist

Mrs. Helen Kirkpatrick, noted journalist and economist, addressed an audience of approximately 475 students and guests last week, stating that there are many pressing problems to be solved in the new Europe.

The lecture was the first in the annual series of lectures sponsored by the Associated Students.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick felt that the present foreign trade groupings in Europe, the Common Market and the Outer Seven, will present great problems that must be solved by the Western nations.

The problems of a divided Germany and of Berlin are very serious. She doubts if a United Germany will appear in her lifetime.

A third major problem, according to Mrs. Kirkpatrick, is DeGaul's thoughts of NATO. The French president has hindered NATO, she said, with his insistence on an independent force that would be separate from NATO.

The audience, composed of students from Pasco High School and Columbia Basin College, was told that a United States of Europe will probably emerge in a few decades.

ASCBC vice-president Judy Sailor introduced the speaker and spent the day showing her around the campus. Miss Sailor said that Mrs. Kirkpatrick had attended Smith College and had done graduate study at the University of Geneva. She was a history and international law student.

The next lecture will be in November.

Young Demos In Politics

The activities of the Young Democratic Club of CBC, led by President George Bakan, have included many hours assisting the Franklin County Democrats.

They helped the Central Committee with the National Registered Voters Drive. They have passed out Democratic literature and helped solicit money for the "Dollars for Democrats" Drive.

The club has had Roy Mundy, candidate for Congress, visit CBC and speak before the students. Recently a film on Senator Kennedy's meeting with the Houston Ministerial Association was shown.

Earlier this year the club sponsored a dance. The $80 profit was turned over to the ASCBC.

Student Council Minutes

In order to keep CBC students thoroughly informed of the workings and activities of student government, the Collegiate here submits student council minutes.

October 11, 1960

The meeting was called to order by the ASCBC president, Dan McMillin. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The treasurer reported a balance of $5,363.95 in the treasury. Correspondence was read.

The following committees were appointed by the president:

Budget—Jane Ware, chairman; John Rea and Dick Davidson.

Handbook Supplement—George-Anne Jones, Kay Ivers, and Sandy Hesselman.

Selection of Hawk—Tom Shine, Mikki Minnear, Jerry Streeter, Mike Pitcher, and Bob Betch.

Jerry Streeter gave his resignation as Sophomore Representative to the Student Council.

cil, because he has been elected Class President. This creates a vacancy, which will be filled by election from nominations submitted to the council by the Student Body. The election will be by the council.

Judy Sailor presented material sent to her through the bookstore for consideration by the Council.

Formation of a Ski Club was discussed. A faculty advisor is needed before one can be started.

The meeting was adjourned.

October 13, 1960

The meeting was called to order by the ASCBC President, Dan McMillin. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and corrected. The treasurer reported a balance of $5,747.47 in the treasury.

Tom Shine reported on his report for Homecoming. Committee reports were given.

An advisor for Ski Club was discussed.

Judy Sailor presented idea of purchasing the sphere of mirrors that the Sophomore class is renting for the Homecoming dance. It can be chased for $75 and rents $25. If the student bought the sphere, it could be rented to other organizations to help pay for it. Mr. Har suggested that we wait to decide until after Homecoming and then if we want to buy perhaps the rental fee could be applied to the purchase price.

The meeting was adjourned.

After dinner speaking will be held after a banquet, October 29. Awards will also be given then.

CBC debaters plan to attend various tournaments throughout the Northwest this year.

Debate Squad To Host Meet

CBC debaters will meet their first competition October 28 and 29 at CBC.

Representatives from 15 schools throughout Washington, Oregon, and Idaho, including WSU, Whitman, Whitworth, and CWCE will attend the tournament.

A new event, political speaking, will be tried this year. Other events include debate, interpretive reading, impromptu, extemporaneous speaking, and after-dinner speaking.
